

Joylife Yusuvara : II. Welcoming the new generation

Ivan Shimats

Cold winter has given way to warmer temperatures of spring. New cherry blossoms have filled our life with bright colours and have lifted our spirits. With that, the new generation of pupils and students walked through the large doors of the Yusuvara Gakuen gym.

The school gym was immaculately prepared for the opening ceremony. This is the arrival of first year elementary school pupils as well as first year junior high school students. It was a very special occasion, especially for elementary school pupils who were experiencing their new school life with awe and wonder for the very first time.

Looking at the bright new faces reminded me about the cycle of life, the change of the old and the coming of the new. Only just over a month ago we were tearfully farewelling the graduating students and now we are welcoming the new generation of bright little faces. Ready to embark on their journey of education and personal development. I wish them all good luck and I hope they enjoy the journey!

The new generation of pupils receive their cute yellow caps!
